

“My decision is final — I will be voting for Kevin McCarthy for Speaker on every ballot until he is elected. Given that the overwhelming majority of my colleagues have made the same decision, any delays caused by multiple ballots will serve no purpose besides keeping the gavels out of Republican hands. It’s time for this distraction to end and for Congress to get to work for the American people.” Rep.-Elect John Duarte

“Kevin McCarthy has my vote for Speaker — whether it takes one ballot or a hundred ballots. The people of the Pennsylvania 11th sent me to Congress to be a strong leader, not to cave to the whims of a small minority of the conference seeking to impose their will on the overwhelming majority of the conference. My decision is final.” Rep. Lloyd Smucker

“Kevin McCarthy is hands down the most qualified person to be the next Speaker of the House. He has worked tirelessly as a leader in this Conference always putting the interest of our Members and our country first. He has done more to change Washington and push conservative solutions than any previous Republican House Leader and has delivered more for Members and Candidates than anyone ever. He has my vote for Speaker no matter how long it takes. Kevin is who the Conference has overwhelmingly chosen and is the only consensus candidate. Out of 222 Republicans in the House, McCarthy is the only one who has earned it every day.” Rep. Jason Smith

“Kevin McCarthy has earned my vote for Speaker. I’ve watched him travel the country, break fundraising record after fundraising record and take the time to understand the needs of each and every member and their districts. Kevin has my vote on the first ballot and every ballot until he’s elected Speaker.” Rep. Michelle Fischbach

“As I mentioned last week at a meeting of the Republican Governance Group, Kevin McCarthy is the only candidate I’m considering for Speaker. There is no Plan B. Kevin has my vote on every ballot until he’s elected Speaker.” Rep. María Elvira Salazar

“In my nearly thirty years in Congress, I’ve never seen any leader work harder than Kevin McCarthy to deliver a majority for their party. Kevin has my vote on every ballot until he’s elected Speaker. That decision is final.” Rep. Kevin Calvert

“I made the decision to support Kevin McCarthy for Speaker not long after I got to Congress to serve the people of the Pennsylvania 9th. Kevin has done more than anyone to win the majority and has a plan and the leadership skills to implement policies that will strengthen America. Kevin has my vote on the first ballot and every ballot after that. My decision is final.” Rep. Dan Meuser

“I’ve made a decision and that decision is final — Kevin McCarthy has my vote for Speaker on the first ballot and every ballot until he’s elected. It’s time for the conference to put these distractions behind us and unite behind the man that delivered a Republican House majority. We have a lot of work to do for the American people.”
Rep. John Joyce

“Kevin McCarthy spent the last two years working his tail off to take back the House, and he delivered. Kevin — and only Kevin — has my vote for Speaker. We need to get on with legislating, oversight and saving our nation.” Rep. Mike Garcia

“This is absurd. Kevin already has the overwhelming support of our conference, no 11th hour candidate is going to displace that. Kevin has done the work of putting us in this majority and we won’t be turning our backs on him for this little parlay, however long it takes. Rep. Doug LaMalfa

“On January 3rd, Kevin McCarthy will get my vote on each and every ballot until he’s elected Speaker. The people of the OH-12 sent me to Congress to lead, not to play games. It’s time for our conference to unite behind Kevin and get to work for the people that sent us to Washington.” Rep. Troy Balderson

“I’m a hard no on anyone besides Kevin McCarthy on January 3rd. First ballot, 100th ballot, 1,000th ballot — Kevin has my vote for Speaker. That decision is final.” Rep. David Valadao

“Kevin McCarthy has my vote on the first ballot and every ballot until he’s elected Speaker. My colleagues can waste time and keep those gavels out of Republican hands longer than necessary or they can join the overwhelming majority of our conference, unite behind Kevin and get to work for their constituents. My decision is final.” Rep. Ronny Jackson

“I’ve had two years to make this decision and none of these last minute theatrics are going to change my mind — I’m voting for Kevin McCarthy for Speaker. Some members of the conference may seek to delay the inevitable, but I’m with Kevin no matter how many ballots it takes. I urge my colleagues to end this distraction and unite behind Kevin.” — Rep. Michelle Steel

“Kevin McCarthy has spent the last four years laser focused on taking back the House and he delivered for our conference and our voters. Kevin has my vote on every ballot until he’s elected Speaker.” Rep. Mike Rogers

“Kevin McCarthy led Republicans to deliver the House majority. He has my unwavering support for Speaker of the House and I am not considering supporting anyone else. He will hold the White House accountable, restore fiscal sense to Washington, and keep our country safe. House Republicans ran on Leader McCarthy’s Commitment to America—and we won. I look forward to working with him as Speaker to fix our economy, fight inflation, and secure the Southern Border.” Rep.-Elect Juan Ciscomani

“Kevin McCarthy has my unqualified support for Speaker. Whether it’s on the first ballot or the 100th ballot, I’m voting for Kevin. It’s time to end this distraction and for all of us to get to work for the voters that sent us to Washington.” Rep. Jake Ellzey

“Kevin raised half a billion dollars to help Republicans take back the House and won the vote of the conference overwhelmingly last month to be Speaker. He has always had the back of House Republicans and has my full support. He is the only person I will be supporting for Speaker.” Rep. Young Kim

“I’m a hard no on anyone besides Kevin McCarthy. No matter whose name they float, my answer will remain the same: I’m with Kevin on the first ballot and the last ballot, so let’s put an end to these games and start governing.” Rep. Nancy Mace

“Steve Scalise is an exceptional leader within our conference and it has been an honor being part of his 117th Republican whip team. I understand a small faction of members are floating his and other names for speaker, in opposition to the desires of the vast majority of the GOP Conference. I continue to strongly support Kevin McCarthy for our next Speaker of the House and Steve Scalise for our next Majority Leader and oppose efforts to sow divisions which will delay us from delivering results for our constituents.” Rep. Stephanie Bice

“Kevin McCarthy will be a great Speaker. Like a majority of the Republican Conference, I will only be voting for one person, Kevin McCarthy. We have work to do and cannot let a small minority hold our nation hostage.” Rep. Mike Turner

“I hope to see Steve come out publicly and make clear that he has no interest in joining up with Gaetz to sabotage Kevin. There are a lot of us who feel like Kevin has earned this and we will be voting for him and no one else — no matter how many ballots it takes” Rep. Tom McClintock

“I’m voting for Kevin McCarthy for speaker on Jan 3. He is the leader we need. It doesn’t matter how many votes it takes.” Rep. Bryan Steil

“I committed to vote for Kevin and nothing has changed. My decision is final. Voters gave us the majority so we can advance an agenda, not to argue among ourselves and waste time on political games. Kevin McCarthy will be our speaker. And under his leadership our Republican House majority will deliver solutions the American people deserve.” Rep.-Elect Max Miller

“Like the vast majority of my colleagues, I’m a hard no on anyone besides Kevin. No one has worked harder than Kevin to deliver the House majority and lame efforts to subvert him are ridiculous. I don’t care how many ballots it takes, I’m with Kevin until he’s elected Speaker. Our great Majority Leader-elect Steve Scalise is a dear friend and I thank God every day for his miraculous survival from his attempted murder. But, on January 3rd, first or last ballot, I’m committed to our Speaker-elect Kevin McCarthy.” Rep. French Hill

“The reason Republicans are taking control of the House and firing Nancy Pelosi as Speaker next year is because of the team Kevin McCarthy assembled and led. I am a member of that team. I strongly support him as the next Speaker of the House and encourage my fellow conservatives to get on board so we can right this ship and get America back on track.” Rep.-Elect Derrick Van Orden

“Kevin McCarthy has my full support to serve as Speaker of the House. On January 3, Kevin will have my vote on the first ballot and every successive ballot, however many are necessary. I’ve been traveling the country extensively for the past two years, working to grow our conservative movement from state to state. No matter where I travel, Republicans want us to be unified in our fight against Joe Biden. Our greatest weapon against Biden’s radical agenda in this new majority is unity. That’s why I urge my colleagues to unite behind the overwhelming majority of the conference. We have voted and now it’s time for us to govern. It’s time for us to honor our constituents and deliver conservative results. It’s time for us to get to work.” Rep. Kat Cammack

“Since the day I arrived in Congress to serve the people of the Indiana 6th, I’ve watched Kevin McCarthy work tirelessly to win back the House majority. And he did it. Kevin has my vote on the first ballot and every ballot after that, no matter how many are necessary. My decision is final.” Rep. Greg Pence

“Kevin McCarthy is the leader the GOP House needs right now. He hasn’t just pledged to give conservatives a voice in leadership — he’s delivered time and again with substance and commitment. That’s why so many of us are committed to making him the next Speaker, no matter how many ballots it takes.” Rep. Darrell Issa

“Kevin McCarthy has earned my vote on the first ballot and every ballot after that. Steve Scalise is a friend and a great man, but he won’t get my vote that he’s not even seeking because a handful of members are trying to hold hostage our conference and ultimately conservative voters across America. Not going to happen.” Rep. Bruce Westerman

“I don’t care if it’s the first vote or the 50th vote. I’m voting for McCarthy. Anyone else who gets to 218 does it without me. North Dakota is closed for winter right now anyway. I have nowhere to be.” Rep. Kelly Armstrong

“Kevin is going to be the next Speaker and he’s got my vote. Allowing a handful of members to subvert the will of the vast majority of the Republican conference is wrong. Kevin has earned this - and we need a Speaker who will work for all of us and deliver on our commitment to America. He stood by us throughout 2022, and I’m with him.” Rep.-Elect Marc Molinaro

“Kevin McCarthy led House Republicans to the majority and will be the next Speaker of the House, no matter how many ballots it takes. He has put together an aggressive agenda to hold the Biden administration accountable, restore fiscal sanity, and combat the Chinese Communist Party and has my full support. These games need to stop so come January 3rd, we can hit the ground running and get to work for the American people.” Rep. Mike Gallagher

“I know that some of my colleagues have concerns, but there’s a serious risk of letting Democrats have a hand in choosing the next speaker, which would be a disaster for our shared conservative goals. Kevin McCarthy has addressed complaints in good faith about House rules, decentralizing power and given members more say across the Republican conference. President Trump has now publicly supported Kevin, and I’ve previously said that I’m supporting Kevin for speaker. It’s time to move forward with our House majority and not squander it. Kevin has earned this. It’s time to unite and get to work to fight for the American people.” Rep.-Elect Harriet Hageman

“I remain steadfast in my support of Kevin McCarthy as the next Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives and will support him through as many ballots as it takes to make that happen. Kevin has led the fight to get our country back on the right track and I am confident we can get that done. I am honored to be a part of the new majority and I look forward to getting to work for Virginia’s 2nd Congressional District.” Rep.-Elect Jen Kiggans

“There is only one candidate for Speaker who will get my vote on January 3rd, and that’s Kevin McCarthy. It doesn’t matter how many names are floated or how many ballots it takes, I’m sticking with Kevin.” Rep.-Elect Mike Lawler

“The worst possible precedent that could be set in the conference is to have Kevin, as Leader for the past four years, travel to every single congressional district, break all fundraising records, and lead the conference from the minority to the majority, only to be stabbed in the back at the eleventh hour. We simply will not stand for that. Which is why it is my firm position, and the position of the overwhelming majority of the conference, that we will vote for Kevin and only Kevin for Speaker. That applies to the first vote, the 100th vote, and the 1000th vote.” Rep. Brian Fitzpatrick

“I was honored to nominate Whip Scalise in November to become our next Majority Leader. Steve is a man that I trust and admire, and he’s also become a dear friend. He will make a tremendous Majority Leader, but if he and the rest of our party are to get to work on day one in the 118th Congress, then we must be a united front. For this reason and more, we need to support Kevin McCarthy for Speaker. Leader McCarthy has presented a strong agenda for the American people. His Commitment to America promises to tackle inflation, address the crisis at our southern border, stop Biden’s assault on American energy, and finally investigate the corruption of the Biden family.” Rep.-Elect Wesley Hunt

“Kevin McCarthy has developed a clear and detailed plan for Republicans to effectively legislate for the American people next Congress. And he has a proven track record of successfully leading our Conference - including to our victory in November. Kevin has my complete support and he will be the next Speaker of the House.” - Rep. Michael McCaul

“Let me be clear: I don’t care how many ballots it takes and how long it takes, Kevin McCarthy will get my vote on every ballot. It’s time for these games to end so we can turn to the business of delivering for the American people.” Rep. David Joyce

“I represent 42% of the southern border and have hosted Leader McCarthy at the border multiple times to see the problems firsthand. We worked together on the Commitment to America agenda to solve our border crisis. That’s leadership - seeing the problem, identifying solutions. I support Kevin McCarthy for Speaker!” Rep. Tony Gonzalez

“My support for Kevin McCarthy is unwavering. He has my vote on every ballot until he gets the required number of votes. Full stop, period.” Rep. David Kustoff

“This is nothing but a distraction. There is one person and only one person that will get my vote for Speaker and that's Kevin McCarthy. On the first ballot all the way until the last ballot — no matter how many it takes — Kevin has my vote.” Rep. Mike Carey

“Kevin McCarthy will be the next Speaker of the House. He won the nomination with the support of an overwhelming majority of House Republicans. We need to move on to policy and oversight. Everyday we mess around with this, it's one less day we are fighting the Biden Administration and getting on with our work on behalf of the American people.” Rep. Patrick McHenry

“Kevin McCarthy is the only member that will be getting my vote for Speaker. On the first ballot and the last ballot, my vote is for Kevin. It's time for the conference to get to work on behalf of the American people, and we're going to do so under the leadership of Speaker Kevin O. McCarthy.” Rep. Richard Hudson

“For the avoidance of any doubt, I am a hard no on anyone besides Kevin McCarthy for Speaker. I don't care how many ballots it takes or how long it takes, I'm not going to cave to a small minority of the conference and let them hijack the House majority that was won under Kevin's leadership.” Rep.-Elect Nick Langworthy

“Kevin McCarthy has already spent the last year and then some preparing to correct America's course and hold the Biden Administration accountable for their careless actions. The time has come to unleash him.” Rep. Brian Mast

“The Never Kevin Caucus has no plan and no candidate. They need to stop misleading the base. When I heard my friend Matt Gaetz say he'd support Steve Scalise, I asked why Matt, who was the first to go to Wyoming to campaign against Liz Cheney, would support Scalise, who was the only member of leadership who didn't support Harriet Hageman against Liz Cheney. I know Scalise plays in primaries because he supported my opponent over me in my first race — when I won. That's water under the bridge and I like Scalise personally, but I don't know why he seemed fine with Liz Cheney — a cancer in our conference — getting re-elected. Unlike Steve (but like Matt Gaetz), Kevin McCarthy did everything in his power to make sure Liz lost that primary in embarrassing fashion. Kevin is the only person running and the only person I'm considering for Speaker, no matter how many ballots it takes.” Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene

“Kevin McCarthy has my vote on the first ballot and every ballot after that until he's elected Speaker. He earned my vote by working tirelessly over the past four years to deliver the majority. McCarthy has my support and my decision is final.” Rep. Michael Guest

“There would be no GOP majority without the relentless efforts of Kevin McCarthy. He has my full support to be our next Speaker — first ballot to final ballot. He is the only person who will ensure our Conference delivers on the promises we’ve made & holds the Admin accountable.” Rep. Ashley Hinson

“The Conference voted in a set of leaders. I’m sticking to that slate. For me, it’s Kevin McCarthy first ballot to last ballot. Kevin is our best fundraiser, best recruiter, and best strategist. Democrats would love to sideline our MVP. Let’s not help them in that effort. Again, I’m Kevin first ballot to last ballot.” Rep. Guy Reschenthaler

“I was elected to steer this nation towards greater opportunity, security, and prosperity. Kevin McCarthy is the leader I trust to help me deliver on those priorities for the people of New Jersey’s seventh congressional district. He will have my support on as many ballots as it takes to elect him Speaker.” Rep.-Elect Tom Kean, Jr.

“Kevin McCarthy helped deliver our new Republican majority. He has the support of the vast majority of the conference and President Trump. Kevin will be the next Speaker of the House, and he will have my vote on as many ballots as it takes. It's time for us to get to work and provide results for the American people.” Rep.-Elect Russell Fry

“We've made significant rule changes to decentralize power and ensure the House represents the will of the people. Now, it is time to actually get to work. The best way to get this country back on track is with Kevin McCarthy at the helm. He will make the best speaker and has my vote no matter how many ballots it takes.” Rep. Garret Graves
